GORILLAS WITH WINGS

A shopkeeper from Margate went ape when he was invited to take part in an event in Hyde Park. Dave Goodwin of Goodwins Power Tools in Westbrook took up the challenge of building a machine to compete in the 2nd Red Bull Flugtag in London.

Most teams who compete take months over their designs, but the Banana Splits, a construction team of five assembled on the day, knocked up a machine in a mere four hours - just to show it could be done. The craft was launched from an eight-metre-high platform into The Serpentine in front of thousands of onlookers.

A combination of distance and entertainment is the key to winning and, although they didn't walk away with the trophy, the Banana Splits were certainly well appreciated.

The action will be screened on ITV1 at 12.15am on Tuesday next week.

KENT International Airport at Manston has been dealt a blow with the news that freight operator MK Airlines has gone into administration.

The airline, which flew from KIA, has suspended its programme and is now seeking investment to get back in the sky.

The company - a large part of whose activity involved the transportation of vegetable produce from Africa - listed financial difficulties and the high cost of aviation fuel as principle factors in its move to administration.

The loss of the MK operation - at least until further investment can be found - comes as another setback to KIA owner Infratil's bid to establish the airport as a major player in the UK aviation industry.

In April, Hong Kong Oasis Airlines, which flew training flights from KIA, ceased trading.

James Bradney, Andrew Duncan and Michael Oldham, of BKL Business Recovery LLP, were appointed MK administrators on Tuesday last week.

An airline spokesman said: "For several months MK Airlines has been in discussion with several interested parties about potential investments in the business to refinance and reposition the airline with more efficient aircraft."

"These talks have taken place in what is clearly a difficult economic climate, during which time the airline - like all others - has had to cut costs and restructure its operations because of the extraordinarily high cost of fuel."

MK was founded in Ghana in 1990 and has had a difficult history.

An article in The Times referred to it as "an airline with one of the world's worst safety records", claiming its initial registration in Ghana had

Cannes-do attitude of film festival chief Carl

■ BY TOM BETTS

IT may not be about to upstage Cannes any time soon, but the first international film festival to be held in Thanet is upon us and hopes are high.

The International Film-maker Festival opens on Friday as a sister event to the highly successful Tenerife Film Festival.

From June 20-27, films from across the world will be showing at the Vue cinema in Westwood Cross, which will act as the centre of the festival.

Organiser Carl Tooney, buoyed by the success of his event in the Canary Islands, has high hopes that the festival could become as successful as its overseas counterpart, with two world premieres and more than 400 initial entries.

The 51-year-old, a drinks importer by trade, is from Cliftonville.

He said: "I wanted to create a sister event here. In Tenerife the festival has built year on year since 2003 and we had 500 entries this year, so I hope we can repeat that success with this new festival."

"It is being very well supported by film-makers and we have people flying in from the United States, Germany, Spain and Italy to attend the festival."

"Now that everything is in place we hope people will come along and watch the films."

The festival opens with the acclaimed thriller Epideo, the first of

MOVIES AND SHAKERS: Carl Tooney has high hopes for his film festival on the isle

50 independent films showing at the Vue.

There will also be a glitzy black tie and cocktail dress awards ceremony, complete with red carpet, on Friday, June 27.

Twelve awards will be handed out, including best picture, best actress and best actor, judged by film reviewers and critics from across the UK.

The ceremony is by invitation only and will close the festival for the year. For a full programme of films being shown and for more details, you can visit www.filmfestival.org.uk/screenings.html.

allowed it to benefit from weak safety standards. It detailed four crashes in 12 years.

In the worst incident – in October 2004 – MK Flight 1602 crashed just moments after take-off from Halifax airport in Nova Scotia, Canada. Seven people were killed.

Three other crashes were reported in Nigeria, one of them involving a fatality.

MK has now suspended services but keeps its Civil Aviation Authority, Airport Operator Certificate. It is hoped that the company can be rescued from its current plight.

Yourthanet asked Matt Clarke, chief executive of KIA, how much of a blow MK's troubles was to the airport. In response, the following statement was released through KIA's PR company:

"It's never good to hear news like this about an airline customer – however, it is encouraging that the administrators, along with MK management, continue to sound out potential investors with a view to getting the company back up and running."

"MK are not the first and nor will they be the last airline to suffer in what is a hugely challenging worldwide aviation environment at present – however, the long-term success of the airport is not dependent on one operator."

"We are involved in discussions with a number of potential customers and remain confident in the airport's ability to become a successful operator of passenger and freight services."

MK chief executive officer Mike Kruger said: "Talks with potential investors have taken far longer than we would have hoped, not least because of this difficult economic climate."

"While we continue to discuss options with potential new partners we are working with the administrators to financially restructure the company and find a way of taking the business forward."

Taste the bands

TICKETS to see chart-topping bands The Hoosiers and Scouting For Girls can be won by picking up a copy of Thanet council's Youth Matters magazine.

The bands perform at the Sound Island festival on Friday, July 25, at Quex Park.

The magazine also details a host of events for 11- to 19-year-olds taking place in Thanet this summer.

You can make sure you get your copy by phoning 01843 577050, or alternatively by visiting www.thaneyouthmatters.co.uk.

HISTORIC: Entertainments manager Ralph Hoult says the Granville Theatre's diamond jubilee week will offer a range of fantastic entertainment worthy of a stage that has been graced by many of the great names in showbiz over the last 60 years

Granville celebrates 60 years in limelight

DIAMOND jubilee celebrations at Ramsgate's Granville Theatre begin today (Wednesday).

To mark the theatre's 60th anniversary in style, a programme of events will unfold over the coming week.

Entertainments manager Ralph Hoult is encouraging the people of Thanet to go along and mark the historic occasion.

He said: "It will be 60 years to the day this week that the theatre first opened its doors, so it's very important to celebrate that."

"After all, some of the greatest names in showbiz have appeared here over the years."

"From Julie Andrews to Brenda Blethyn, Bruce Forsyth to Jerry Lee

■ BY TOM BETTS

Lewis, and Benny Hill to Sir John Mills, and that's to name but a few.

"That's why we have put together a programme to keep the tradition of great entertainment going."

Starting jubilee week is a production of The Wiz, an adaptation of The Wizard Of Oz.

Performances are at 7.30pm tomorrow (Thursday), Friday and Saturday, with a Saturday matinee at 2.30pm.

On Sunday from 7.30pm, the winner's show of the Make Me A Star talent competition will be held.

The Alex Hughes Show will see the winner joined on stage by many other talented contestants, including the Rhythm Express Dancers.

Mr Hoult, a keen amateur local historian, holds one of his popular slide shows in the form of Old Ramsgate - A Trip Down Memory Lane: The Granville Story, at 10am on Tuesday.

Later, there is An Evening With David Ruddock At The Piano, with special guest vocalists.

On Thursday June 25, at 10am, the Silver Screen Breakfast Club movie is The Smallest Show On Earth starring Peter Sellers, and the first Granville super-quiz will be held at 7pm with a sausages-and-chips supper or alternative menu.

It will feature music, cinemascopie visuals and theatrical interludes.

The Big Birthday Show, the centrepiece of the celebrations, will recreate a traditional seaside theatre variety evening.

The final event will be a show featuring the Stage Express Productions Dance Troupe with Neil Diamond and Dusty Springfield tribute acts.

For a more detailed schedule of dates, times and ticket prices for jubilee events, you can visit www.granvilletheatre.com, or phone 01843 591750.

Margate's Christmas lights from 2006 are still in place - really!

Come on, girls, get your trainers!

WOMEN across the isle are being urged to take part in a charity fun which will help in the fight against cancer.

The Thanet leg of the national Race for Life 2008 has a capacity of more than 2,000 runners, but hundreds of places still need to be filled if organisers are to reach their target of £142,000 for the isle.

The race is at Quex Park, Birchington, on Sunday, but participants must register by midnight tonight (Wednesday).

Cancer Research UK's Natasha Etienne has appealed for more women to get involved.

She said: "1,400 women have signed up to the event, which is still more than half and a fantastic number, but we want to encourage more to sign up."

"Every penny raised goes straight to Cancer Research. I have no idea why the uptake for the Thanet race has not been as great as last year."

Nine Race for Life events are being held in Kent this year and six have already taken place.

Last year, the Thanet leg raised £133,000 and 2,000 women took part, prompting organisers to add 200 more places this year.

Ms Etienne stressed that the event was not just for those with a competitive streak. She said: "It will still be a great day, but I want people to get behind the Thanet race and make it as successful as the others."

"It's a walk, a jog or a run and we're not asking for athletes, but every and any woman who wants to be part of something special. I'd like to encourage women to support this event."

Inspirational nine-year-old Pride of Britain award-winner Chloe Gambrell, who defied the odds to compete in the race despite battling leukaemia in 2005, will once again be taking part.

To enter the Race for Life 2008, visit www.raceforlife.org, or phone the helpline on 0871 641 2282. But please hurry, time is short.

Missing lad was cut off by tide

A BOY who went missing from his Kingsgate home at the weekend had to be rescued by coastguards.

Jordan Young, who is 12 but has a mental age of five, was reported missing from his carers' home, in Percy Avenue, at 7.30pm on Sunday.

He was found on rocks in Kingsgate Bay at 1.35am the following morning after he had been cut off by the tide.

He was taken to the QEQM Hospital in Margate, where he was treated for a minor cut to his head.

Dog restrictions to be simplified on isle beaches

THE public are being asked about Thanet council plans to simplify dog-walking restrictions on the isle's beaches.

At present, by-laws limit members of the public from walking their dogs on nine beaches, but the council admits the rules have been hard to follow.

The restrictions have been operating at different times on different beaches.

Now the council's cabinet has suggested Dog Control Orders be introduced on all these beaches, together with Louisa Bay in Broadstairs.

This will see dogs banned from these beaches from May 15 to September 15, from 10am-6pm.

A consultation will now take place.

The beaches affected would be Minnis Bay in Birchington; Louisa Bay, Viking Bay and Stone Bay in Broadstairs; Margate Main Sands; Westbrook Bay, West Bay and St Mildred's Bay in Westgate; Ramsgate Main Sands and Cliftonville's Walpole Bay.

Make sure your vote counts in the parish

AN ELECTION to fill a vacancy on St-Nicholas-at-Wade Parish Council will be held tomorrow (Thursday).

Polling will take place at the Village Hall, The Street, St-Nicholas-at-Wade, with voting hours from 7am-10pm.

The election is taking place because 10 voters within the St Nicholas-at-Wade parish requested the vacancy be filled by a vote.

Those whose names appear on the St-Nicholas-at-Wade Register of Electors will be able to vote.

To check your name has been included on the Register of Electors, or if you require a form to register, contact Thanet District Council's electoral services team.

Band hit the road in bid to secure festival place

■ BY TOM BETTS

A PROMISING band with strong ties to the isle have made it through to the final stages of a potentially life-changing TV show.

Floors And Walls play on Channel 4's Road to V2008 show as part of a 4music special to be screened after midnight on June 27/28.

The show is a competition to find new bands to play in front of thousands of people at the huge V festivals this summer.

Singer and MC Alex Adams, 20, is from Margate, as is drummer Adam Shamp, 19, while guitarist Dom McNulty, 21, hails from Broadstairs. The fourth band member is Ian Booth, from Brighton.

Alex Shamp said of the hype: "It comes down to four people in a room turning out tunes. We just try to play gigs and enjoy it."

The lads, who pedal a unique fusion of rock and urban musical styles, are in with a real shout of making it through to the semi-finals.

They are one of 14 bands who have progressed to the latter stages of the show, placing them on the verge of the big time.

The band, who list the Red Hot Chili Peppers, Incubus, Muse, Rage Against The Machine and The Streets among their influences, formed in

EVENT IS THE 'BIGGEST YET'

More than 65,000 visitors are thought to have attended the Big Event weekend at Palm Bay, Cliftonville, last weekend.

The two-day land and air spectacular again attracted large crowds to watch the show.

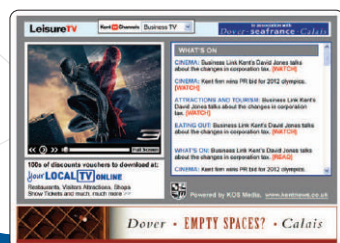

This year's attendance reportedly surpassed figures from the last four years, which have seen a steady rise from the 30,000 at the first event.

Cllr Roger Latchford, of Thanet council, said: "It was the biggest turnout so far.

"Each year keeps getting bigger and better and we're excited to announce that plans are already under way for next year.

"We were blessed by fabulous weather and it was wonderful to see so many people from all over the South East enjoying themselves at the event. I'd like to thank everyone involved."

QUIET TIMES: The Terence Painter Properties office in Ramsgate has closed as isle property sales have cooled

Agents feel the pinch as market activity slackens

BY TOM BETTS

ESTATE agents across the isle are facing hard times, laying off staff and vacating offices as the housing market slows.

One company to have felt the strain is the independent, family-run Terence Painter Properties, which has closed its Ramsgate office.

The company's James Painter said the Ramsgate site was used primarily to deal with its involvement in the Royal Sands development at the former Pleasurama site, but a small on-site office would now suffice.

Mr Painter said: "We have closed the Ramsgate branch. The property market has been quieter. The market has been tough and a number of agencies and lawyers have made redundancies, ourselves included."

Law firms such as Boys and Maughan, which deal with the legal side of property deals, have also shed staff, while other estate agencies, such as Miles and Barr, have also had to shrink staffing levels.

Mr Painter added: "You can ride it for so long, but without sufficient revenue coming in you can't keep doing it."

"It's certainly a lot less busy than it was last year."

Christian Miles, of Miles and Barr, said: "The market is very tough. We're finding things hard to shift."

He said people trying to sell houses for more than they were worth were also causing headaches. "Vendors have got to be realistic and listen to us with regards to price," he said. "If a vendor listens to us, we will be able to sell it for them."

The firm has had to cut jobs across the county. Mr Miles said: "It's unfortunate, but you have to upscale and downscale with the market. It's horrible, but it's part of survival."

The picture is not all bleak, however. Mr Painter said there was still hope that the situation could improve. "I'm still hoping that the Thanet property market can buck the trend," he said.

"Prices here are still relatively cheap compared with the rest of the county and we have a bit more of a buffer for growth. It is still a key area that people want to move to."

"People are having a much harder time getting finances now and, as much as they want to move, if they can't get the mortgages, then it affects the market. But it's not all doom and gloom."

Is Damrong good? Damned right ...

yourthanet NEWS IN BRIEF

Gale hails 'brave' decision by Davis

ISLE MP Roger Gale has described the action taken by shadow home secretary David Davis in standing down from Parliament to fight a by-election as "a brave decision taken by a very brave man in the national interest".

Mr Gale served as a vice-chairman of the Conservative Party under Mr Davis and has worked in support of his leadership campaigns.

The Thanet North MP said: "It is typical of the man that I have come to know to put the interests of his country before the interests of his party and above any personal interests or ambitions."

Mr Davis's resignation will force a by-election in his Haltemprice and Howden constituency in Yorkshire, which he will fight on the issue of the new 42-day terror detention limit.

Mr Gale said: "David feels very strongly, and rightly, that the liberties and the freedoms of the individual have, under this government, been eroded to the point of danger and as a consequence he believes a stand has to be made."

Man's pillow assault

DARREN Weatherstone tried to smother his girlfriend during a row about a crying baby, a court was told.

Weatherstone, 42, of Northdown Road, Cliftonville, had been drinking lager and smoking cannabis at Carol Delahunty's home in Canterbury when the row erupted.

Weatherstone kicked and spat at her before trying to put a pillow over her face to stop her shouting.

Weatherstone told police: "The baby was crying and I didn't want to hurt her. I just wanted to keep her quiet."

He admitted assault at Canterbury magistrates' court and was given a community order for two years, ordered to do 150 hours' unpaid work and pay £50 costs.

Protecting the marina

GRANVILLE Marina is to become a part of Ramsgate's conservation area.

Thanet council cabinet members have voted to include the 19th-century buildings on the town's seafront to stop them falling into disrepair.

The properties were built as shops, cafés and a photographer's studio on the ground floor, with living accommodation above.

They will become eligible for grants under the Townscape Heritage Initiative Scheme as a result of the extension.

A meeting of the full council will now decide whether planning consent would be required for most external alterations to the buildings.

Nineteen rehomed after former hotel is deemed fire risk

A PROPERTY in Cliftonville has been closed down by Thanet council officers, with 19 people having to be rehomed.

The former hotel in Northdown Road has been shut down as it posed an imminent risk to the health and safety of those living there.

The building was judged to be a fire risk and in poor condition due to lack of adequate management.

Residents who lived in the flats also had to put up with a leaky roof, little or no access to kitchen facilities, and broken windows.

Council officers first visited No 254/258 Northdown Road during a crackdown on antisocial behaviour in May.

They arranged a return visit so they could conduct a more in-depth inspection of the property and ascertain the level and type of occupation, which they were unable to do on their first visit.

Action was taken under the Housing Act, following a joint inspection with Kent Fire and Rescue.

Prevention

During the second round of Operation Clean Sweep, 36 tonnes of rubbish was cleared from five premises by waste and recycling teams.

Three alleyways were cleared by volunteers, with more than 70 bags of rubbish taken away, along with furniture, rubble and hardcore.

Seven notices were issued to commercial premises in the area, five for the prevention of rats because of the amount of rubbish that had accumulated at the premises, and two for failing to obey trade waste rules.

Meanwhile, 60 Fixed Penalty Notices were issued for parking offences and five informal notices served for minor food safety contraventions. One health and safety notice was served for an electrical wiring fault.

QUESTION & ANSWER

CLIVE HART

Q Who or what got you involved in local politics?

A I've been interested in politics ever since I started work as an electrical apprentice in the early 1970s. One job I worked on was the building of the council offices in Margate and I remember clearly all the heated yet well-natured political arguments between tradesmen during our tea breaks and at lunchtimes. Sometimes these even took place in the council chamber while it was being built.

I was very fortunate indeed to learn my trade from real craftsmen who also happened to have excellent debating skills. Les Grey, for example, was both an electrician and a local councillor. I was truly blessed with excellent training, both in electrical installation and political philosophy and you could say that interest in politics has stayed with me ever since.

I like to think I'm a survivor and somehow I got through the Thatcher years, massive inflation, negative equity and the short-sighted privatisation of the electricity supply industry in which I worked, but all these very real life experiences simply confirmed my underlying belief that there had to be another way.

My son and daughter suddenly became adults and that allowed me the freedom to indulge my hidden passion!

Q Why the Labour Party?

A My dad was an orphan who ran away from the threat of a workhouse to join the Army and was decorated by the King at Buckingham Palace with the Military Medal for his bravery on the beaches of Dunkirk. He was later mentioned in despatches for further heroic deeds fighting across North Africa.

Absolutely sickened by the long years of war, he came to Margate to raise a family. My mum came with him. She had been treated horrifically as a young child in the service of a very wealthy woman. She eventually recovered from that trauma to drive lorries full of explosives throughout the war.

In Margate, Dad became a humble labourer and to make ends meet Mum cleaned for people in Cliftonville. I was born in a council house on the edge of Dane Valley to two 'ordinary' parents who had lived extraordinary lives. Despite being very poor, they created idyllic childhoods for me, my brothers and sister. I never forget my roots and they are always with decent (extra) ordinary working people.

Q Where do you see yourself in five years' time?

A Who knows? Fifty years ago I was blowing bubbles in a pram. Twenty-five years ago I was a craftsman with a young family. Twenty years ago I found myself divorced and living in a bedsit. Just over a decade ago I remarried and life turned back up the right way again. For me, just like everyone else, there is no road map to life and nor would I want one. What I do know is that one way or another I'll make the very most of wherever or whatever I am. I'm not really a religious person, but I truly believe we should wake up every morning and just thank God we're still here.

Q What can Labour do to reclaim power in Thanet?

A Listen to people and tell it how it is. The administration think saying things like 'Margate is beautiful' will somehow fool people. We need to involve residents in regeneration and not just patronise them with silly slogans. For too long the Tories have been telling people what's good for them instead of listening to what they want. I believe residents are slowly coming to understand that Labour councillors, with their feet firmly planted in their communities, are far more likely to listen and act accordingly. It's what we're really good at and when we stick to it we are unbeatable.

Q What do you like to do in your spare time?

A After a 20-year break I'm determined to get back into photography. I like reading books and The Guardian. All my life I've absorbed the wisdom of my elders and I'm learning each and every day from writers much younger than me. I like to listen to jazz, soul music and classical pieces. I also love my garden.

Q What is your most treasured possession?

A Memories. There's no elaborate filing system needed, you can take them anywhere and everywhere and you get to keep them no matter what.

Reporter Tom Betts spoke to district and county councillor Clive Hart about his love of politics, why he first joined the Labour Party and the (extra) ordinary people who helped shape his life and views

PCSOs are not reducing crime, says new report

■ BY NICK AMES

AN INVESTIGATION into the impact of police community support officers has discovered they have little impact in areas where crime is high.

PCSOs, as they are known, are members of support staff employed, directed and managed by their county police force. They complement and support police officers, and are designed to offer greater public reassurance.

They do not have the same powers as police officers, however.

Ann Barnes, chairwoman of the Kent Police Authority said she welcomed the evaluation report into the effect of PCSOs but emphasised more work needs to be done in the field of reducing anti-social behaviour.

This will involve introducing teams of officers each responsible for a specific area which has encountered problems.

Investment

Mrs Barnes said: "Our first report showed that where we had deployed police community support officers the quality of life of residents had improved and crime had lowered.

"However, this time our second report has shown that in high crime areas the impact hasn't been felt and that's one reason why we have allocated new 'Task Teams' to be introduced in September to act as the enforcement arm of neighbourhood policing."

The report was discussed between top police officials and members of the authority at a meeting which looked at the role of the officers in the past 12 months.

Mrs Barnes, who gave the go ahead to fund the PCSOs, said: "We must critically look at our investments and understand what benefits they are bringing.

"It's our duty to the public to make sure we are getting a return and not wasting money.

"The authority didn't rush headlong into our investment, we researched, ran pilot programmes and evaluated them before other forces and the Government.

"To have police officers patrolling for the same number of hours as police community support officers we would have to find an extra £3 million a year - impossible to do.

"This report is warts and all and is valuable to the authority and force and highlights pointers where we need to make changes - which is why we carried out the research.

"We remain confident that police community support officers do a good job on the streets, they provide a uniformed presence and are invaluable to Kent Police and the service it delivers."

Energy firms blasted over high charges

ENERGY companies have ignored Government warnings to stop over-charging low-income families on their fuel bills, the National Housing Federation has claimed.

British Gas, E.on, Npower and Scottish and Southern Energy are continuing to charge households with prepayment meters almost £300 more for their gas and electricity than better-off customers who set up online accounts, according to figures published by the consumer watchdog, Energywatch.

They also pay up to £89 more than customers who pay their bills on a quarterly basis - despite paying for their fuel up front and rarely switching supplier.

The Government had been expected to use reserve legal powers to compel the energy companies to lower their tariffs for such customers - following a high profile campaign by the National Housing Federation, and a number of leading charities.

But the companies were given a "last chance" by the Chancellor Alistair Darling, warning them to slash their charges.

New figures released by Energywatch, revealed Npower charged prepayment meter customers £298 more than those on their cheapest tariff.

British Gas was a close second, charging £264 more, while E.on slapped a premium of £206 for customers using prepayment meters. And Scottish and Southern Energy (SSE) charged its prepayment meter customers £171 more than those signed up to their cheapest tariffs.

The major providers said they have agreed on a £250 discount for those who are struggling to meet their bills whatever their method of payment.

A spokesman for Npower added: "Anyone can change their method of payment. It is quite often the case that prepaid meters are used by landlords of tenanted properties so that there are no outstanding bills at the end of a period of tenure. But if anyone objects to this they can ask their landlords for a change."

Were you born in 1948?

■ BY GARY WRIGHT

THE National Health Service celebrates its 60th birthday next month – an anniversary marking the greatest revolution in health-care in the world.

And to mark the occasion, we want to hear from anyone who shares their birthday with the much-admired service.

So, if you were born between July 5, 1948 – the day the NHS itself was created – and December 31 of the same year, we want to hear from you.

Tell us your story of a lifetime under the umbrella of a state-run health system, which was the envy of the world when it was unveiled.

We want you to share the highs and lows of the NHS experience, through its good times and tough times.

It might be the birth of your own children and grandchildren, or tales of life-saving operations and caring nurses who really did make a difference to your life or your loved ones.

The NHS was introduced by Clement Attlee's Labour government in the aftermath of World War Two as part of a cradle-to-grave welfare state to protect the whole population.

Before the war, healthcare in Britain had been a patchwork of local and municipal groups

A NEW AGE DAWNS: Anybody under 60 years of age in Britain has lived a lifetime with the security of the NHS and charities. The thinking behind the NHS was that each person would receive the same level of healthcare, although private schemes were allowed to continue and exist to this day.

However, less than ten per cent of the public has private healthcare and much of that is a top-up to NHS services.

This is in stark contrast to nations such as the USA, where to receive healthcare requires insurance premiums and millions of Americans have no cover whatsoever.

Our NHS is frequently held up as an example of state support around the world.

Aneurin Bevan, appointed as health minister, had the job of introducing the reforms.

When they were in place, he stated: "We now have the moral leadership of the world."

So, if you celebrate your 60th birthday this year, let us know and share your story with thousands of our readers.

Mosquito to buzz off after debate

KENT Youth County Council (KYCC) members have been praised by local authority chiefs for their role in helping ban the use of so-called Mosquito devices.

The devices – which emit high-frequency sounds which can only be heard by those under 25 – are used to prevent youngsters gathering outside public buildings.

But Kent County Council has confirmed it is among one of the first authorities in the UK to ban them from its sites.

Since their introduction in January 2006, they have been installed across the country in more than 3,500 locations.

KYCC members were invited to debate the issue with KCC's cabinet earlier this year by Mike Hill, the councillor responsible for community services.

At a full county council meeting in May, it was agreed that KCC would ban the use of the device and it would lobby central government for a national ban. This is on the grounds that they infringe young people's rights and target all young people, regardless of how they are behaving.

It was also felt that their use "contradicts the authority's duty to represent young people and listen to and respect their views".

Cllr Hill said: "I am grateful to KYCC members for helping to debate this issue. These devices are abhorrent and give completely the wrong message to young people.

"The noise may result in youngsters moving away when there is no need for them to do so because they are causing no harm.

"I am grateful for the strong views of KYCC which informed the county council debate and the decision that was taken.

"This is testament to how seriously we take this issue and how important it is that our young people are listened to."

New powers in crackdown on fly-tippers and crooks

CRIMINALS profiting from polluting the environment by illegally dumping waste are being targeted in a crackdown.

Defra – the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs – has launched a consultation in a bid to clampdown on a problem which plagues the Kent countryside.

Illegally dumped waste can be found anywhere, from roadsides and lay-bys to private land, and can range from large domestic items such as fridges and mattresses, to garden refuse and tyres.

The cost of removing the waste, some of which is hazardous, falls to individuals and local authorities. Fly-tipping and other forms of waste crime are often organised by professional criminals making big profits.

The proposals will give local authorities and the Environment Agency new powers to stop, search and seize vehicles suspected of being involved in fly-tipping and other waste offences. Offenders who do not come forward risk their vehicles being crushed.

Environment Minister Joan Ruddock said: "Fly-tipping poses a serious threat to people and wildlife. It damages our environment and spoils our towns and countryside. There are rogue operators out there claiming to dispose of waste responsibly but then dumping it in public areas. These are the people we have in our sights.

"It costs £100 million every year to investigate and clear up illegally dumped waste. This consultation will give everyone the opportunity to have their say on how we can tackle these crimes."

Among the measures proposed are doubling the maximum fine to £10,000 and making it an offence to provide false and misleading information on a waste carrier application form and for failure to notify of changes to registration details.

Improvements accommodated at deaf school

PLANS to build new accommodation at the Royal School for Deaf Children in Margate are coming to fruition.

A new 32-bed building will be used for college students to stay in at term time and has four high-dependency beds.

Construction will get under way at the school in Victoria Road, Margate, when grubbing out has been completed.

Slow-worms were discovered on the site last year and many were taken to the Monkton nature reserve as they are protected from being killed, injured or sold under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981.

The school's Vanessa Burt said: "We found about 300 of them, so a lot of time, care and effort was taken to remove them."

Work on the facility should start soon and hopefully be completed in September 2009.

Vanessa added: "It's going to be an excellent new facility and very important to the students."

Meanwhile, the school has appointed a new community fund-raiser in Emma Bourne. The charity, which also includes Monkshill Farm at Dargate and Westgate College at Westgate-on-Sea, relies heavily on grants and fund-raising.

■ BY TOM BETTS

Emma, who has more than three years' experience in volunteer management for VSU Youth In Action, the leading youth volunteering agency in Kent, will be leading efforts to encourage the county's companies and community groups to include the school in its fund-raising activities.

She said: "I very much look forward to the challenges of my new role, fund-raising on a grand scale."

"In my first year, my main goal will be to raise £50,000 for an astro-turf pitch which can be used by both the community and pupils."

She added: "I am hoping to build up a network of fund-raising volunteers to help organise and participate in events to support this and other fund-raising projects."

Emma has plans for a 'stay awake-a-thon' and an exhibition of Westgate College students' work at the Horsebridge Centre in Whitstable.

If anyone would like to volunteer to help with any fund-raising activities, or would like ideas to organise their own fun events, please phone Emma Bourne on 01227 700041.

BREAK TIME

Dedication brings rewards

PROUD students from St Lawrence College stand in front of the school's main entrance after their annual prize-giving and speech day.

The students, from the first form right up to the sixth, were presented with their prizes by the former High Sheriff of Kent, Nigel Wheeler.

The accolades were presented in recognition of their excellent work, dedication and achievements through the school year.

Pupils exchange links down under

ECOLOGICAL and global issues are helping strengthen links between schools on opposite sides of the world.

Chatham House Grammar School in Ramsgate and the Townsville State High School in Australia have agreed a sister school relationship.

Year 11 and 12 students will also be collaborating on projects in English, science, maths and geography.

Chatham House head-teacher John Matthews paid a visit to Townsville's principal Scott Stewart during the last Easter holidays.

He said: "The way of delivering learning is changing and growing so rapidly, it is excellent our schools will be sharing stronger links and the aim is to eventually have a full exchange programme."

The link will see the two schools exchange information, pictures and biographies of students, a compilation of students' writing, teaching ideas and the sharing of on-line learning packages.

Rotary Club goes back to school

THANET Sunrise Rotarians visited Ramsgate's modern Marlowe Academy for a sightseeing tour recently.

Members of The Rotary Club of the Isle of Thanet Sunrise had a cooked breakfast with students and the academy's principal, Ian Johnson, before taking in a school assembly and a question-and-answer session.

Mr Johnson said: "We are proud of our students and facilities and welcome any opportunity to show them off."

"In particular, as we are at the heart of our community, it is a delight to welcome the visit of the Rotary Club, which shares our desire to help charitable causes and promote the well-being of local people and businesses."

Labour councillor David Green points out the financial cost of going green

Saving the planet will simply never be the cheaper option

The figures below come from the AA (unleaded petrol was introduced in 1988)

Year	Pump price (pence)	Fuel duty (per cent)
1988	36.73	61.10
1989	38.52	59.25
1990	42.76	58.65
1991	46.06	61.55
1992	46.08	65.55
1993	49.54	67.13
1994	51.70	69.64
1995	54.20	73.17
1996	56.66	76.10
1997	61.97	77.14
1998	65.17	81.48
1999	70.58	81.14
2000	80.77	75.07
2001	76.78	75.33
2002	74.33	76.56
2003	76.56	75.26
2004	80.87	73.18
2005	87.22	68.89
2006	92.10	67.76
2007	95.10	66.70

THE percentage of the cost of petrol that is fuel duty is lower now than when Labour took office in 1997.

In 2000, Labour abolished the fuel-price escalator introduced by the Conservatives in 1993, and fuel duty as a percentage of pump price started to drop. Fuel duty was also frozen from 2003 to 2007.

Part of the point of fuel duty is to persuade people to buy smaller, more fuel-efficient cars when they replace their existing cars.

The other part is to assure manufacturers who have several years' lead time when designing cars that, yes, fuel-efficient cars will be marketable regardless of what happens to the oil price, thanks to fuel duty.

This was the key lesson from the 70s, when American manufacturers produced innovations like electric cars, which came on-stream just as the oil price collapsed circa 1985. They lost money and refused to invest any more in the expensive technology – it's no accident that all the fuel-efficient cars come from Japan and Europe, where fuel duty has been ratcheted up.

The Government has also been trying with speed cameras and advertising to get people to slow down, not just because of road deaths, but because speeding burns excessive fuel. We've failed, thanks to campaigns in the Daily Mail about the right to speed.

The Government is also proposing to change the road tax regime in favour of more fuel-efficient cars. Changes to vehicle excise duty were spelled out in the small print of March's Budget.

The changes, which take effect next spring, added six new bands of car tax, depending on how much carbon dioxide the car produced per kilometre. Greenest cars are charged the least; the heaviest, the most.

All in keeping with the Government's green agenda, but what has caused most anger is the back-dating of the new taxes to apply to all cars bought since 2001.

Fair enough if you know what you're getting yourself into, so the thinking goes, but people with older cars are being stung by a retrospective tax they couldn't have anticipated when they picked up the keys to the carbon-emitting car.

The Government claims "the majority of drivers" – some 55 per cent – "will be better or no worse off".

So here's the dilemma: being 'environmentally sound' costs money. No amount of spin can hide that.

Secondly, the benefits are in the future, whereas the costs are now. I see the Government trying to do the 'right' thing but, as in so many areas, individual, short-term gain may prove more attractive to certain types of voter.

WIN fruit delivered to your door for four months

AT Anchor Real Dairy Cream, we love little squirts. We know mums love their little squirts too, and want to make sure they are eating all the healthy goodness they need to keep them going all day.

That's why we've launched our Little Squirts campaign.

This summer, get your kids using some of their creative energy to make fruit more fun with a little squirt of Anchor Real Dairy Cream!

To get you started, Anchor is giving one lucky winner an organic fruit box for a family of four delivered to their door each week for four months! You'll also win a four-month supply of Anchor Real Dairy Cream and a kid's Little Squirts chef hat so go on, get squirting! Five runners up will also receive Little Squirts chef's hats.

To enter, answer the question and send your entry on a postcard along with your e-mail address, name, address, and daytime telephone number to Little Squirts Comp, KOS Media, Apple Barn, Smeeth, Ashford, TN25 6SR. The closing date is June 30, 2008.

Question: What is the name of Anchor Real Dairy Cream's campaign to make fruit more fun?

a) Little Squirts b) Big Squirts
c) Small Squeezes

Don't worry if you miss out this time. Visit www.anchorsquirtmoments.co.uk for the chance to win more in our Fruity Creations competition. You'll also find lots of ideas of how to make fruit more fun with a Little Squirt of Anchor Real Dairy Cream.

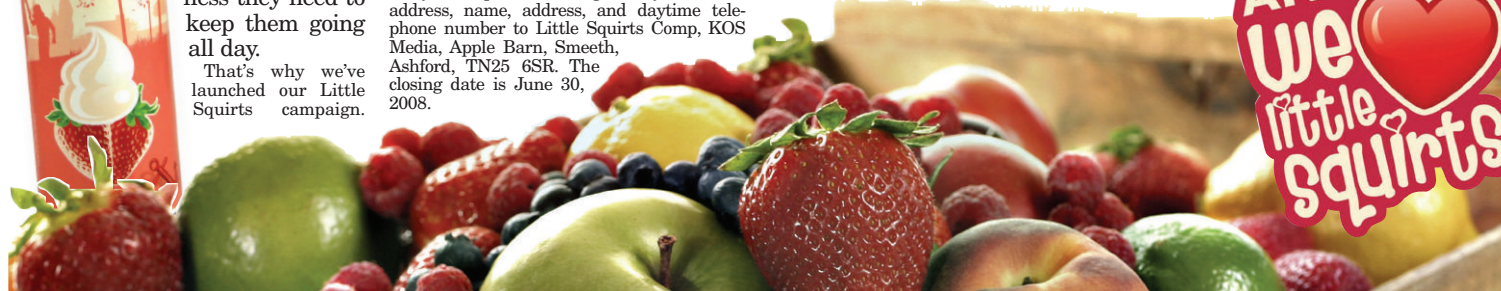

Also, why not try Anchor Light Real Dairy

Cream and Limited Edition Anchor Strawberry Flavoured Light Real Dairy Cream – just for summer. Both are a delicious addition to fruit.

What's more, both products contain only 25 calories per serving. They're just the thing if you're looking for a little squirt of fun!

TALK TIME

BEN JONES

The translator and publisher from Birchington talks about music and his love of Thanet

So what do you do, Ben?

Most of my time is spent running a translation business, covering many languages but specialising in the Far East. I'm my own boss, though, so I also make time for lots of music - I run a mixed children's and adults' chamber group at Thanet Music Centre, help organise the Thanet Festival, and lead the Thanet Light Orchestra, too. I also do some bizarre things, like running through London dressed as a gorilla for charity.

How did you get into translating?

I did Japanese at university, worked in Japan for a few years before coming back to Thanet in 1990.

Do you enjoy what you do?

Definitely! I'm getting paid to learn about new things every day, so there's never a dull moment. The documents I translate range from contracts through technical manuals to advertising brochures, multilingual websites and video subtitles. Sometimes I get to travel - for example to interpret at meetings in Brussels or Paris.

What is your current project?

I've just started a new venture, Ozaru Books, to publish books relevant in some way to this area - even if it's just that the author lives here. Our first book's just come out: 'Reflections In An Oval Mirror' by Anneli Jones from St Nicholas-at-Wade (available from St Nicholas post office and Picture This in Birchington, as well as normal booksellers). It describes what it was like to grow up on a farm in Germany while Nazism was beginning to take hold.

YOUR LETTERS

No expenses perk for general public

The economic news for the Labour government this past fortnight has been dreadful. Signs that the country is heading for a financial downturn and the fact that we are all facing a very bumpy ride is making Kent's Labour MPs very nervous and jump, hence the apparent pull-back from the opposition to the proposed 42-day detention.

The prospect of them losing their seats at a time when prospects of finding another job will be much harder has obviously affected their principled stand against this erosion of civil liberties.

The general public are definitely feeling the pinch, with rising fuel and food costs and their concerns with payment of mortgages and rent.

The Conservatives are also having a bad hair day, with many of their MEPs and MPs getting found out about their expenses claims.

Ordinary people will naturally be very angry that their elected representatives, who have two and sometimes even more homes, can treat their constituents in such an off-hand manner when their own homes are being threatened with foreclosure by building societies or banks.

They cannot claim their mortgages on the expenses.

Bill Furness
Broadstairs

New Labour plan has failed us all

I refer to the lamentable letter in Yourthanet (June 4) from the Labour group's Cllr John Watkins in which he attacked me for having the audacity to tell readers the truth about the outrageous behaviour that he and Clive Hart inflicted on local councillors and members of the public at Thanet council's AGM.

Residents may have noticed that 'Red Clive' and his comrades appear to have spent more time recently talking down Thanet in the local press than they have spent trying to improve the lives of its residents.

LETTER OF THE WEEK

Dave almost swept me over

I like Dave Green, but when I read his comments in the June 11 edition of Yourthanet ('Time to clean up the seafont') I was so flabbergasted I almost gave a customer the correct change.

Eastcliff promenade and Marina Esplanade have been neglected for years.

Dave has been a district councillor for well over 13 years and for eight of those Labour controlled Thanet council. But only now is he calling for a clean-up. What has he been doing all this time?

In 2002, Iris Johnston, then a council cabinet member, joined a group of proto-Ramsgate Firsters on a tour of Eastcliff from George VI Park to Harbour Parade. Presumably, out of courtesy, she informed Dave, but he failed to turn up. I pointed out all manner of neglect and dilapidations to her, particularly the parlous state of the railings. Nothing was done and whole stretches of railings failed.

Dave and Elizabeth Green have taken credit for the new 'olde' lamp-posts, but not for the fact that they have largely been a bodge job.

Dave also claims that Thanet council ignores his concerns. Oh really? Does he talk to the same people I do?

Since I decided 18 months ago that Eastcliff would be my ward to fight, I have raised numerous problems directly with the appropriate departments at Thanet council and have seen remedial work undertaken immediately. I reported an unsafe railing and later a broken balustrade, both of which could have resulted in a fatality.

Within hours they had been fenced off and within weeks repaired.

I find the staff at the council very helpful if you treat them as human beings rather than as serfs. No, I haven't gone native - I passionately want to see the end of that useless appendage (Thanet council) - but I don't have to hate the poor beggars who work for it.

I sent Dave and the council an email on May 6 about the lack of waste bins on Eastcliff promenade. Dave did not reply, but Ruth Sanders of Amenities did, emailing me back straight away to say that she was treating it as a matter of priority.

I don't expect praise for my efforts, mostly unrecorded here, but neither did I expect a councillor who, unlike me, has never swung a broom on Eastcliff, to boast of his sudden insights after he has had 13 years to assess the situation.

Gerry O'Donnell
Ramsgate First

In talking to local people, some of whom voted Labour at the last election, they now express their dismay with the failure of this Labour government.

I suggest that instead of writing letters talking down the isle, Thanet council's Labour group starts writing letters to its boss Gordon Brown asking him why he is punishing the most needy and poorer section of our community for the failure of the New Labour experiment.

Cllr John Worrow (Independent)
Birchington parish councillor

People forget how it could be

I would like to respond to the typically aggressive response in the local media from the leader of the Conservative group on Thanet council to my attempt to draw his attention to the sad state of Ramsgate's Eastcliff seafont.

He seems to be saying that firstly I am to blame for not reporting every piece of dereliction to officers, and secondly that today's problems are the fault of neglect by the last Labour administration six years ago.

Fortunately, some of us involved remember what was done in Ramsgate during the last Labour administration.

What about the York Street development, the restoration of the Madera waterfall and Albion Gardens, the new 100-berth Western Marina, two new marina amenity blocks, the travel hoist, the new fuel barge facility, the new eastern seafont plaza, Leopold multi-storey car park refurbishment and the Wellington Crescent refurbishment?

And, lest I forget, the Ramsgate port tunnel, the new sports centre in the high street and the Pugin House refurbishment. All done under or initiated under the last Labour administration (people forget so quickly what it could be like!).

Since then, I personally have been involved with others in the bandstand refurbishment, the "heritage" street lights, restoring 'destiny', the flag pole, build-outs along Victoria Parade etc. TDC involvement? Very, very little.

As for me not reporting problems, Cllr Ezekiel really must learn to curb his tendency to attack and think later. If he bothers to check he will find all these have been reported.

Streets of Margate make a sorry tune

The Streets of Margate – to be sung in the vein of the Ralph McTell's Streets of London, and with tribute to one of the two shops left on Margate seafront:

*Have you seen the old town in the closed-down centre putting up the shutters,
with visions of bad news?
In our eyes we see no pride
Empty places at the seaside
Yesterday's dreamland with yesterday's queues*

*So how can you tell me you're lovely,
And say to you that the town is fine?
Let me take you by the hand and lead
you through the streets of Margate
I'll show you something that won't make you change your mind*

It's now time for action – not promises and hollow visions.

The more things change at airport...

So Thanet South's very own caring, sharing Tory is alarmed that Manston airport is endangered by Government aviation tax policy (last week's Yourthanet).

The airport is, Parliamentary hopeful Laura Sandys informs locals, "at a crucial moment in its development".

Had Mrs Sandys been a little more familiar with this achingly drawn-out saga, rather than displaying the almost touching bewilderment of a politician parachuted from on high, she would know that Manston is forever "at a crucial moment in its development".

In fairness – it having been almost a decade ago – Ms Sandys wouldn't have been around to hear it, but some of us will recall a former Thanet council planning chief informing a local TV station how the airport was on the verge of creating 11,000 jobs.

Yes, 11,000 (rather than a more realistic 11).

Manston was presumably then also "at a crucial moment in its development".

The more things change...

Speed reduction schemes on track

As county councillors for Ramsgate, we are delighted to have successfully supported residents of Nethercourt and Southwood in their campaign for desperately-needed road safety measures.

At the recent Joint Kent/Thanet Transport Committee, it was agreed that a package of measures be promoted.

These include the consideration of a reduction in speed limit from 40mph to 30mph for Nethercourt Hill, London Road and Canterbury Road East.

In addition, parking restrictions are proposed for the junctions of Nethercourt Hill/St Lawrence High Street with Nethercourt Farm Road, Nethercourt Gardens, Southwood Gardens and Ashburnham Road.

New pedestrian crossing islands are proposed for Nethercourt Hill and Canterbury Road East.

A zebra or pelican crossing is being investigated for St Lawrence High Street.

Regarding Chilton Lane, it is hoped that staggered parking, double yellow lines and possibly a one-way northbound road between Downs Road and Saxon Road can be achieved.

Detailed investigation and consultation on these safety measures will now take place.

We are happy to be able to respond to contacts with residents, including a number of petitions concerning these matters.

We are pleased with the proposed package of recommendations, particularly the measures aimed at improving safety around Chilton School, and the recommendation to reduce the speed limit on Nethercourt Hill, London Road and Canterbury Road East to 30mph (currently 40mph).

The speed reduction plus the upgrade of pedestrian crossings, road markings and signage should make these roads much safer for pedestrians and other road users.

We would obviously like to see these recommendations implemented as soon as possible following thorough consultation.

WHAT WE DO: The Coral recorded their latest album in Noel Gallagher's studio and are looking forward to headlining at Lounge on the Farm

The Coral get ready to rock

But band bans wellies for festival spot

HEADLINERS The Coral are getting ready to Lounge on the Farm as Kent's festival season continues.

The Mercury Prize-nominated band will top an impressive bill that includes an array of big names and exciting new talent.

The line-up so far includes Lightspeed Champion, Black Kids, Mystery Jets, The Draytones, Underground Heroes, and countless others.

For The Coral, Lounge on the Farm will be another chance to have fun in the sun (hopefully) though there is a ban on a certain item of festival footwear, as organ player Nick Power revealed.

"I take my boots with me, but there's a welly ban," he said. "I think they just look silly."

The band started out as members of the Liverpool music scene and released their self-titled debut album in 2002. They were still in their late teens and early 20s at the time and have released four more albums since then. Power believes that any

LOUNGE ON THE FARM

Friday to Sunday, July 11-13
Merton Farm, Canterbury

developments in their sound have occurred naturally, rather than through any conscious decision.

"It's always changing," he said. "If you're good, it will always change. If you're original, it doesn't matter what you're doing - if you strive to be original in life, even away from music, it will come out."

Their many fans include hard-to-please Noel Gallagher, who even lent them the use of his studio and vintage equipment to record their latest album Roots & Echoes.

"He doesn't throw lots of compliments at you," Power said. "We've toured with him and he said 'use our studio for nothing'. He came down a few times. Noel's done lots of stuff to help us because he likes us."

Having formed as teenagers in Merseyside, The Coral seemed to be pretty confident of their ability to produce good tunes.

When their debut album was nominated for the prestigious Mercury

Prize, Power was less than impressed with the industry endorsement.

"I had seen the judges and I don't need to be given an A* from a journalist in a suit," he said. "I don't need them to say that it's alright. I won't judge someone who is good because they probably know already. I don't really get it."

Once the festival season is over The Coral will be starting work on a new album, though this will be achieved in their own style.

"It sort of falls into place," Power said. "We have a bit of time off and we all start writing in our own time. It's not like everyone will be in the gym weightlifting. We pick up our guitars and put the telly on. We all contribute, it's what we do."

Lounge on the Farm weekend tickets cost £85 for adults and £40 for children, while day tickets cost £35 for adults and £20 for children. Tickets can be booked online at www.loungeonthefarm.co.uk and are also available from various outlets across Kent. Visit the website for full details.

DICKENS FESTIVAL

Thursday to Sunday, June 19-22
Various venues, Broadstairs

BROADSTAIRS will celebrate its association with one of the world's greatest writers at this year's Dickens Festival.

There have already been some great events taking place this week but the festival will officially open tomorrow (Thursday) when Dickensians set off from Balmoral Gardens at 9.45am. They will make their way to the Bandstand where the town crier will declare the festival open at 10.30am.

Residents and visitors can enjoy a host of attractions during the four-day celebration including Victorian bathing, croquet, vignettes, the historical walk, Punch & Judy, a Victorian picnic, melodramas, music entertainment from local schools and more.

On Friday Clare Graydon-James will present a mixed programme of readings and songs at the Council Chambers in Pierremont Hall, starting at 7.30pm. There will be a grand parade from the war memorial to Victoria Gardens at 2.30pm on Saturday. Find out more about fellow Victorian Oscar Wilde in a lecture at Sarah Thorne Theatre Club at the Memorial Theatre at 5pm on Sunday.

THE WIZARD OF OZ

Thursday to Saturday, June 19-21
Granville Theatre, Ramsgate

THE Wizard of Oz gets a funky reworking in the latest show from Stargazers Productions.

Based on L Frank Baum's classic tale, The Wiz is an entertaining soul/funk version which is sure to get toes tapping. The cast will include 35 local youngsters aged between eight and 17, who will be strutting their stuff and helping to bring this colourful story to life.

When young Dorothy is picked up by a tornado and blown into a magical land, her only way of getting home is to seek out The Wiz. Along the way she meets the Scarecrow, the Tin Man and the Cowardly Lion, each of whom want to ask for something very special from The Wiz. Will they find him and if they do, will he be all that he seems?

The musical was first premiered on Broadway in 1974, a new take on the old story using African American actors and contemporary music. Three years later a film version was produced starring Diana Ross, Michael Jackson and Richard Pryor.

Tickets are priced from £7 to £9. To book in advance call the box office on 01843 591750.

CANTATE CHAMBER CHOIR

Sunday, June 22
St Mary's Church, Minister

AN EVENING of spectacular song is on offer when two chamber choirs join forces for a stunning concert.

Thanet-based Cantate Chamber Choir will be performing at St Mary's Church, along with Sir Roger Manwood's Chamber Choir.

The programme will include The Chichester Psalms by Bernstein and Gloria by John Rutter, with instrumental accompaniment.

Cantate was formed in 1996 with just eight singers who were looking for a wider repertoire and the choir has now grown to 18 members. They have performed in public regularly under musical director Edward Greenhalgh and the repertoire includes a diverse range of both secular and sacred music, from the Renaissance to the present day. This means that concerts tend to be an eclectic mix of styles and audiences have heard Gregorian chant to songs from the shows. Easy listening songs include tracks by the likes of John Denver and Eva Cassidy.

The concert starts at 7pm and admission is by programme costing £7. Find out about the choir at www.cantate-thanet.co.uk.

THANET LEISURE

Carmina Burana stars young local singers

ASPIRING young singers will be joining the Thanet Festival Choir to perform Carl Orff's Carmina Burana.

The choir will be singing with 60 children from local primary school choirs. It will be staged at the Winter Gardens, Margate, on Saturday, starting at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £10 for adults and £2 for children. To book call 07950 465489 or visit the website at www.thanetfestivalchoir.org.

Surfs up for summer - try a taste at weekend

LOOKING for a new hobby this summer? If so, Joss Bay Surf School might be able to help.

The school will be surfing taster sessions for over-16s on Joss Bay Beach on Saturday. The lessons run from 10am to 11.30am and cost £15 per person.

Booking is essential so call 07812 991195 or email info@jossbay.co.uk to secure your place. The school also runs sessions for other age groups. For more details visit the website at www.jossbay.co.uk.

Film students shoot their way to a show

BUDDING Steven Spielbergs will be displaying their work at Thanet College's end of year show.

The BTEC national diploma in media students will exhibit their films in Shoot, Edit, Wrap, which can be seen at the college on Monday. The event will run in G13 in the Viking Building, starting at 6.30pm and finishing at 9pm. Anyone who would like to see the students' work is welcome to attend.

Comics rule the world

BY SIMON ROBINSON

THE UNITED Nations should keep a close watch on the cult comics behind The Mighty Boosh.

Having garnered a legion of devoted fans from their surreal sit-com and nationwide stage tour, experimental and eccentric pair Noel Fielding and Julian Barrett have organised a one-day comedy/music festival.

What next? If things go well world domination is surely but a few steps away.

Impending invasion aside, however, the Mighty Boosh Festival takes place at the Hop Farm in Paddock Wood next month boasting the very best in stand-up and live music.

Indie superstars The Charlatans are among the biggest draws lined up to appear on the Monkey Hell main stage, joined by the likes of '80s electro legend Gary Numan, The Kills and the balding brilliance of Har Mar Superstar.

Pulp frontman Jarvis Cocker and risqué US singer Peaches will also chip in with DJ sets.

Providing the laughs in The Velvet Onion tent will be acclaimed comics such as Georgie perm funnyman Ross Noble, Frankie Boyle and the criminally underrated Matthew Holness, who gave the world the unadulterated joy that is Garth Marenghi's Darkplace.

The undercard also includes emerging up-and-comers including Mark Watson, Josie Long, Wil Hodgson and Tom Baden.

The Mighty Boosh boys will be on hand at the end of the day to combine the comedy and music elements of the festival with a top-of-the-bill performance on the main stage.

Eccentric goth Fielding said: "We've never played a music festival before and a comic has never headlined at a festival before so we are seizing the opportunity and doing both."

The 30,000 capacity one-dayer on Saturday, July 5, costs £50 per person, with children under 12 going free when accompanied by an adult. Food and bottled water are allowed on site but no glass bottles and cans.

Gates open at noon. For more information visit www.booshfestival.com.

Take comfort in a relaxing setting

■ Comfort Inn

THE Beauty Salon at the Comfort Inn, Ramsgate, offers a range of treatments including manicures, pedicures, eyebrow shaping, waxing, massage, facials, eyelash perming and tinting, as well as Indian head massage.

Open seven days a week, the salon offers people the chance to book a pamper party - ideal for a hen night or girls' night out.

Beauty therapist Laura Chambers said: "As we're situated in the Comfort Inn, the bar and restaurant are available so men can enjoy a pint while their ladies relax in the salon - although we do offer treatment for men, too.

"At the moment the eyelash/eyebrow tinting - which cost just £10 for both - is proving extremely popular. Eyelash perming is also very popular."

The salon has a welcoming staff who are friendly and, above all, professional.

"The atmosphere is relaxed and all products used are of the highest standard.

"The customer is always the most important person," said Laura.

"It's a place that has something for everyone."

Joined-up thinking to heal you

■ Hawley Health Centre

THE centre has been established in Hawley Square, Margate, for more than 20 years.

It is one of the longest running osteopathic centres in Thanet. About 14 years ago it expanded to form a complementary health centre offering a wider range of therapies.

The osteopaths are full members of the General Osteopathic Council and have undergone at least 4 years full time training at an accredited school. We are PPP, BUPA, HSA etc registered providers.

Whilst back pain is the most common problem seen, osteopathy can treat every joint in the body, arms, legs, feet etc. The main principle is that if your bones, muscles, joints ligaments and tendons are all healthy and in good structural balance then your nervous system, circulatory system and consequently your whole body can function efficiently.

Craniosacral Therapy Osteopathy using the cranial approach is very gentle safe and effective in the treatment of children, even those born prematurely. Cranial osteopathy requires advanced palpatory skill which is why it is taught at post graduate level.

Traditional Chinese acupuncture can be used to treat neck, shoulder, back or knee pain strains and sprains and other soft tissue injuries and many other conditions. It has been in existence for over 3,000 years and is increasingly accepted throughout the western world as an adjunct to, or in place of, western medicine. It works by restoring the body's natural healing abilities.

Other therapies available include hypnotherapy, cognitive behaviour therapy, massage, Indian head massage, aromatherapy, reflexology, hot stone therapy, homeopathy, physiotherapy, and podiatry.

We offer a friendly, professional and highly trained service to clients. See our website: www.hawleyhealthcentre.co.uk.

TOP TIPS

Think TrimNSlim

Eat protein every day to maintain your energy, increase fat burning and feed your lean body muscle. Without it you cannot hope to sustain great bodyshape. When choosing skincare look for creams that include multivitamins, collagen and SPF15.

Belmont Hypnotherapy

If you are worrying about your weight, as long as you have three normal meals a day with half the quantity of what you normally eat and drink a glass of water before or after each meal, you will find you will be able to resist the temptation of nibbling.

Hawley Health Centre

Some of the therapies we use can help to reduce stress. Treatments include cranial -sacral therapy, cognitive behaviour therapy and acupuncture. Regular de-stressing can help you live a happier and healthier line.

YOUR TV REVIEW

INTELLIGENT: Lauren Laverne and Mark Kermode present this watchable, and cultured, show

■ BY TOM BETTS

IT may not be as high-brow as it likes to think, and every now and then some sections can border on dull, but the Culture Show's return is still a welcome one.

The show looks at everything from movies, music, comedy and art, in a reassuringly non-patronising way, so you don't feel like an uneducated fool.

Host Lauren Laverne is pretty inoffensive and, on film duty, Mark Kermode is still the most watchable critic we have on these shores.

While some will scoff at a dumbing down of high art, in a world of Big Brother and Vernon Kay's Family Fortunes, a few bite-size chunks of culture make a refreshing change.

And you never know you may just learn a little something into the bargain.

Talking of modern day culture I must say it's been ruddy brilliant watching the Portsmouth Hotspurs tough it out against Tottenham Villa over the last few months. I talk about the football season, of course.

The domestic season is all over, but for those who hate the all-consuming beast it has become, or who may simply never have watched a game before, this could be a good place to start.

With England's failure to qualify, the national mania that comes around every two years will not cloud the issue and if you really want to have a look at the game itself, aside from the circus and politics that surrounds it on a league level then, take a look.

For me, this is much closer to what football should really be like.

Less about who said what about which player, and what overpaid moron is signing for which over-paying club and more about what is happening on the pitch.

The business end of the tournament is in full swing so give it a try, even if it's just this once.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21-Feb 19)

THE power of the people isn't just a catch phrase for you; it's a reality. If you long to make changes join forces with others. A loved one may think your tactics rude, but don't pay attention to such criticism. Sometimes you have to cause a commotion to make progress.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)

QUESTIONS about your identity are starting to resurface. You're more than just your job, bank account, and social position. The fewer labels you put on yourself, the greater your potential will be. You can be happy and prosperous, so long as you let yourself.

To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Pisces 09067-531763

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19)

FINDING the truth isn't as simple as it seems. If you're to get to the heart of the matter, you need to start questioning your assumptions. The more you explore your different attitudes, the sooner you'll realise most of the obstacles you face are self imposed.

To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aries 09067-531762

TAURUS (Apr 21-May 21)

OUTSIDERS see you as conventional. If they knew what you were really thinking they'd be amazed. Your creative juices are flowing freely. Channel them in a positive direction. Money could be a bit tight thanks to an unexpected bill. Friends could help you find extra work.

GEMINI (May 22-Jun 22)

LEARNING the art of give and take is essential. In the past, relationships have suffered, but now you're starting to realise you need to be working with your associates, instead of against them. Striking the balance can be difficult, but you're clever enough.

CANCER (Jun 23-Jul 23)

BEING of service has always been a source of pride, but you can't deny your leadership skills. The best way to help is to assert authority. Taking the helm may be daunting, but it will be rewarding. Pay attention to your hunches. They can lead you down some interesting paths.

Another milestone in cross Channel travel!

With the arrival of the SeaFrance Molière in early July, SeaFrance Dover - Calais Ferries completes its fleet of new generation superferries operating the cross Channel route between Dover and Calais.

With a total length of 203 metres the SeaFrance Molière is the longest ship ever to operate between Dover and Calais and will surely be a sight to behold when she berths at Dover for the first time.

The SeaFrance Molière joins a distinguished fleet that includes the award winning SeaFrance Rodin and the SeaFrance Berlioz and has all the advantages you'd expect of a modern ship. And with a capacity to effortlessly sail up to 1,200 passengers in comfort across the Channel, plus easy loading and disembarkation for cars, why would you want to cross the Channel any other way?

The high standard onboard facilities and the distinctive continental atmosphere that passengers have come to expect when crossing the Channel with SeaFrance are strong features of the SeaFrance Molière. Enjoy waiter service cuisine prepared onboard by our French chefs in La Brasserie restaurant. Choose from a superb family menu in Le Relais, our self-service restaurant, or simply relax over a refreshingly cool drink or coffee in our café bars.

Shopping with SeaFrance is an experience not to be missed. The SeaFrance onboard shop, La Boutique has amazing offers with fantastic savings across a huge range of wines, beers, spirits, perfumes, confectionery, and gifts.

Crossing the Channel with SeaFrance is a great way to start your short break or family holiday in France.

Renowned as a top European holiday destination, France has fantastic variety to offer all age groups. Build sandcastles with the kids on the safe clean beaches of the Côte d'Opale. Visit the many theme and leisure parks that are just a short drive from Calais.

For the more energetic and dedicated, the northern region of France has much to offer. Sail, windsurf, horse ride, fish, play golf - the choice of activity breaks and holidays are endless. And of course you must not miss out on the famous French hospitality you receive in the many restaurants, bars and cafes that are plentiful throughout the region.

To plan a short break or family holiday in France it is well worth visiting www.seafranceholidays.com You will find a wealth of information on places to stay, attractions to visit, activity breaks, special offers and a whole lot more!

Starting your short break or holiday with SeaFrance is the stress free way. Free from the hassle of airport security and check in queues. Freedom to do your own thing in your own time.

SeaFrance offer great value Day Trip and longer stay fares. So why not do something different today and call 0871 663 2541 quoting KOS or visit seafrance.com

SeaFrance don't just cross the Channel, we offer so much more in between.

ON GENERAL RELEASE

GONE BABY GONE (15)

A four-year-old girl is missing in a tough Boston neighborhood, and private investigators Patrick Kenzie and Angela Gennaro (Casey Affleck and Michelle Monaghan) are asked by family to help. But there are drug thugs, money, and liars around

THE HAPPENING (15)

Humanity is under threat in this chilling story which focuses on a science teacher (Mark Wahlberg), his estranged wife (Zooey Deschanel), best friend (John Leguizamo) and his daughter as they fight to stay alive while a powerful neurotoxin creates global chaos. People all along the eastern seaboard of the United States are just dropping down dead

THE INCREDIBLE HULK (12A)

Bruce Banner struggles to avoid the pursuit of his nemesis, General Thunderbolt Ross (William Hurt), and the machinery that seeks to capture him and exploit his power, all the while trying to find a cure to rid himself of his rage-filled alter ego. Then along comes a monstrous new adversary - The Abomination

Audrey returns to her roots

BY KATE WHITING

IT is exactly two years since Audrey Tautou teamed up with Tom Hanks in Hollywood blockbuster The Da Vinci Code. But rather than use the experience to launch an assault on the American film industry, the diminutive French starlet chose simply to slip quietly back out of the limelight.

"I don't want to do an anonymous Hollywood movie which is why I'm not interested in those types of experiences," she explains.

"I like my work and I like to work, because I like to meet people, so it really depends on the people I'm going to work with."

"It's not a question of language, or country or where the production is set, it's only a question of people and talent."

Audrey first came to the world's attention in 2001 French language film Amélie, the tale of a shy but eccentric Parisian girl, who finds pleasure in observing other people's lives and subtly interfering with them.

Then came her first English role the following year as a struggling Turkish woman in Dirty Pretty Things, Stephen Frears' drama about immigrants in London.

Now she is back speaking in her native tongue in the romantic comedy Priceless, alongside a young Nicholas Cage lookalike, Gad Elmaleh.

Audrey plays Irene, a scheming gold digger who mistakes shy waiter Jean (Gad) for a millionaire. When she finds out he doesn't actually have a penny to his name, she runs off to the Cote d'Azur.

Jean follows and sets himself up as a male gigolo to earn some money - and Irene's respect. Before long the pair inevitably fall in love.

"I loved this movie, because yes it's a romanyourkenttv.co.uk

tic comedy, but in other ways it's cruel and heartless," Audrey says.

"It's not like a sweet sugary comedy where it's all about romance and love. It's quite dark, like a satire."

After playing very likeable characters in Amélie and The Da Vinci Code, Irene is something of a departure for the 31-year-old actress.

"It was a good opportunity for me to play a strong character," she admits.

"She's tough but she's also special because her motivation is from something in her youth. I really think she has an admiration - almost a compulsion - for this luxury universe."

"She thinks to be happy she needs to be in the universe of money. It's like a security for her. But in a way she avoids true feelings."

For Audrey, the daughter of a dentist and a teacher from the Auvergne, money has never been important - and now she has earned her fair share through the success of her films, she finds it hard to come to terms with being well-off.

GOLD-DIGGER: Audrey Tautou stars in new release Priceless and is working on a film of Coco Chanel

"For me, it's still a novelty. I still feel like a foreign character with money."

Despite all the critical acclaim she has received, with a Bafta nomination to boot, Audrey admits she still has doubts about her acting ability.

"I am not self-confident at all," she reveals. "It's a paradox in a way. I would say I know what I don't want to do, but I don't know what I can do."

"I need to be reassured. Most of the time, when I'm hired for a part, I always think there's been some kind of mistake."

Worries aside, Audrey's career success looks set to continue, albeit on this side of the Atlantic and she is working on a biopic of fashion icon Coco Chanel.

Dream the impossible dream

IT is easy at times to read holiday brochures promising relaxation for parents and non-stop entertainment for children, and ponder if the combination is an impossible dream.

The true family holiday where youngsters and parents both emerge after two weeks with a smile on their face and not clumps of their own hair clutched in their clammy fists, is never easy to achieve.

So having packed my wife and three children (aged five, nine and 15) into the car, we headed off to France to put Eurocamp's claims of achieving such bliss to the test.

Our destination was the Loire in the south west; an area of forests, flat countryside and chateaux.

A pain-free, five-hour blast down the toll-roads of northern France – kicked off with the relative luxury of a P&O crossing and tickets to the club lounge – transported us into an area where the sheer size of the country was only too apparent.

Long, straight roads, with few cars, cutting through pretty, well-kept, villages, leading us eventually to our campsite – home for a week during the May half-term holiday and miles away from the hustle and bustle.

Parc de Alicourts is close to the quaint village of Pierrefitte, 53km south of Orleans. A large site, it has an impressive central pool complex with wave machines and water slides, a large, modern, bar and even a sandy-beach lake. There was a golf course, tennis courts and a football pitch, play areas, a small shop and even a library.

It was clean, well-kept and the staff were nothing but helpful. The kids loved the space and, out of the peak season it was gloriously calming and relaxed.

For those more used to apartments and nightlife, the Eurocamp strategy is very different. Over 35 years, it has established itself as the market leader in family camping holidays, with a presence on more than 150 sites across Europe.

The emphasis is very much on being stress-free for the parents while providing the facilities to ensure the children wear themselves out so you can crack open a bottle of the finest cheap plonk to enjoy after the 10pm noise curfew kicks-in. And it works a treat.

This is no bring-your-own-tent affair, though. If you want a fortnight under canvas you can do so – but Eurocamp's stock come complete with fridges and ovens and sprung beds.

MARKET LEADER: Parc de Alicourts in the Loire has a large central pool complex

For us, it was a mobile home with large living space, three bedrooms, bathroom, kitchen with microwave and full size oven. They cost a little more, but are worth every penny.

Eurocamp's on-site couriers are there to advise and assist – and their tent comes complete with a host of toys and equipment the holiday-maker can borrow; ideal when the weather takes a turn for the worse.

Recommended days out include a trip to Zoo Parc de Beauval an hour or so drive away, complete with koalas, and the gloriously ornate Chateau de Chambord.

But, in truth, a week on site satisfied all our requirements. For young families, Eurocamp can proudly boast it has indeed achieved the impossible dream.

Holiday details

Chris Britcher was a guest of Eurocamp. He stayed in a three-bedroom comfort mobile home on Parc de Alicourts. A seven-night stay, including a crossing via Dover and Calais with P&O, in May, cost a total of £675 for two adults and three children. An upgrade to the P&O Club Lounge costs £12 per person booked in advance or £14 onboard. You can also travel via SeaFrance or, for an additional charge, Eurotunnel.

Eurocamp offers sites in France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Portugal, Croatia and Slovenia. Fly-drive deals are also available.

PROPERTY NEWS

Brit buyers look south and west

BRITONS are still buying homes in continental Europe, where cash goes further than it does in the domestic market, according to analysts.

Paul Collins is property editor at overseas investor magazine BuyAssociation.

He said the attraction was not just financial gains, but the use of homes in the sun for holidays.

This makes southern and western European countries the most popular areas in which to buy.

Mr Collins said: "They will remain that way because of the ease of getting to them and the fact that the culture and economy is geared to foreigners buying property."

Emerging markets such as the former Eastern Bloc countries are still attractive to those looking for a purely financial investment.

Among the factors which help this are favourable immigration policies adopted by European Union states, many of which favour newcomers who can speak English.

In many countries, a points system operates which has a clear bias in favour of English speakers.

Southern comfort defies the gloom

THE South East saw the second highest growth in house prices across the UK as people in the region continued to defy the national credit crunch.

Latest figures take into account the change in prices in the 12 months leading up to April.

The highest annual house price growth was in London (7.5 per cent), followed by the South East (6.3 per cent).

Kent remains one of the most attractive places to buy in the country because of its communication links, including the high-speed rail link to London set to open next year.

Building projects such as the Thames Gateway and Ashford and its surrounds, are reportedly also unaffected by the recent gloom around the market.

Price rises in the North were far less impressive, in some areas just reaching one per cent.

The annual UK house price growth rate for first-time buyers fell from 4.9 per cent in March to 3.9 per cent in April.

However, national trends continue to look gloomy, with some experts predicting a two-year slump in the market.

Cheap, but beware studio flat pitfalls

■ BY NICK AMES

AS house prices fall, the idea of a studio flat becomes more attractive to buyers – but experts warn that there can be pitfalls.

Price is the main attraction and stamp duty is lower on a studio. But when the property market looks in good health, they are far less popular... so more difficult to sell on.

Other disadvantages include the lack of a second bedroom for guests or the possibility of letting accommodation and the way that estate agents calculate the worth of a property, using floor space as a major factor.

Additional minus factors include a lack of flexibility on floor usage because of the obvious limited space.

"When the market weakens and prices slip a little, it brings studios within reach of a wider audience," said Andy Finch, head of new homes sales in Manchester for Knight Frank.

"Buyers can save between £20,000 and £25,000, compared with a small one-bedroom unit."

But, while cheaper than one-bedroom properties, studios may not represent great value, according to market analysts, when the bigger picture is taken into account.

"Estate agents are now valuing property on the price per square footage, and this is not very flattering for studio apartments," said Russell Hunt, of Property Hunt.

There are other drawbacks to a one-room flat. A separate bedroom provides first-time buyers with the option to let a room if their monthly mortgage payments rise. And studios rarely provide a long-term base.

"Buyers and tenants grow out of studios more quickly than one-bed flats," said Mr Hunt. "The market for studios is very select, so in a buoyant period could prove tricky to sell."

Finance for a studio can also present problems.

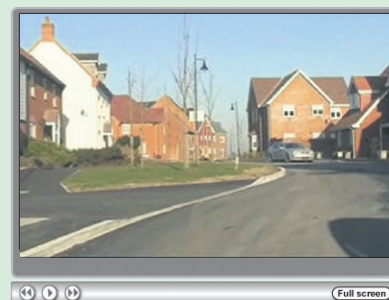

"Lenders are not keen to lend on studios," said Melanie Bien, of Savills Private Finance.

"Much depends on the size of the property. They will want it to be at least 380 sq ft before they will lend."

"Part of the reason is concern over the resale value. There is far more demand for one-beds than studios, so it should be much easier to sell the former than the latter – and that protects the lender's investment."

MOTORS NEWS

Yaris leaves Prius green with envy

TOYOTA'S Yaris supermini has been voted Green Car of the Year 2008 by the Environmental Transport Association (ETA) eco-watchdog.

Criteria used were power, emissions, fuel efficiency and noise levels, allowing the Yaris – in 1.4-litre D-4D 90 and three or five-door form – to also beat Toyota's own hybrid Prius (3rd) and Aygo city car (6th).

Key was exceptional aerodynamic efficiency leading to better economy – 62.8mpg on combined cycle – and noise reduction. A further benefit was CO2 emissions of just 119g/km, qualifying for road tax Band-B (£35/year).

New Mondeo diesel shows ambition

FORD'S crusade to have the latest Mondeo considered alongside German executive rivals has stepped up with the launch of a 2.2-litre performance diesel option offering 0-60mph in 8.4 seconds.

Significantly, it is offered only on upmarket Titanium X and Titanium X Sport Mondeo versions, delivering a clear message to Audi and co.

Our motoring editor Steve Loader reports: "The Mondeo chassis delivers excellent grip plus taut handling without a trade-off on ride comfort. Giving it the responsive 2.2 diesel enables even greater exploitation of these virtues."

Aveo supermini tipped as Chevy's top seller

CHEVROLET has tipped the new Aveo supermini as its new best seller with supplies of the three-door version now joining the five-door launched in May.

Despite a new name, the Aveo is a heavily revised version of the Kalos created by famous Italian design studio Giugiaro.

While the Kalos profile and side creases are retained, the front has received the US brand's latest corporate look and features a horizontally-split grille with crossbeam wearing the Chevrolet gold 'bow-tie' logo. Prices: £7,695-10,645.

REFINED: The new Passat covers a lot of bases, from company car workhorse to executive transport for those not seduced by supposedly more glamorous – and expensive – rivals

STAR QUALITY

Driving appeal	★★★★★

Reliability	★★★★★

Grip and responsiveness are excellent, yet the car delivers just the right level of comfort and refinement, especially noticeable across rural Kent after winter's usual upsurge of potholes, fraying edges and cracks. Needless to say, even in this high-output 170PS form, the 2.0-litre VW diesel is smooth and is well insulated from the cabin in any case, making the Passat a magnificent motorway cruiser and capable of delivering mid-40s to 50mpg.

Cabin ambience is also high quality, with well-arranged and durable switchgear, plentiful stowage pockets and cubby holes and excellent space efficiency that underlines how well the car competes with the likes of the Mercedes E-Class, BMW 5-Series and Audi A6 from a much higher price range.

And the provision of spacious leg and head room for three in the rear has not been at the expense of the boot – one of the largest in its class and a clue to the Estate's huge load-lugging capacity.

OK, the latest Passat is no 'people's car' in the image of the original Beetle, but it offers the comforts of a higher class to the mass market – priced from £15,825-26,365.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

BIG 4x4s

SOARING fuel prices and road taxes have poleaxed new 4x4 sales and values for used ones. Figures from motor industry mouthpiece the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders reveal an 18.5 per cent drop in 4x4 registrations in May 2008 against May 2007. While small car volumes leapt by 120 per cent. But if you need a 4x4 for rural or towing work or like space and cover few miles, a little bit of cash now buys a lot on the used market. Here are some potential star buys.

carsforrent.co.uk

RANGE ROVER

AGEING petrol examples of Range Rovers are ridiculously cheap to buy now, but just a few fill-ups at the pumps could see you spending the same amount all over again. Then again, a used RR delivers cut-price entry to an upper crust view of the road and an awful lot of kit and comfort for your money. Go for the highest spec you can afford though, preferably Vogue flagship level, to claw back most luxury in relation to gas guzzled.

BMW X5

FOR many, the ultimate SUV (sports utility vehicle) – it's big, laden with badge cachet, drives like a BMW despite the high body and looks the business. All good reasons for desirability and why this 4x4 is holding its value better than most, though it still cannot defy 'erosion by running costs'. BMW's advanced diesels are the favourite buy, but you could save lots with a performance petrol model, especially as diesel is currently about a fifth dearer than its rival.

TOYOTA LAND CRUISER

IF YOU need a 4x4 to tow a trailer, boat or a caravan then the Land Cruiser is one of the best, living up to rugged looks and helping it to defer the worst depreciation. As with the Range Rover, go for the best spec to make the most of its thirst for fuel, but don't worry about big repair bills; providing your Land Cruiser hasn't been abused or missed services, major problems shouldn't trouble your horizons.

What could you contribute to Britain's best free newspaper?

SENIOR REPORTER

We are looking for a first class reporter to join the small but talented team at the award-winning Kent on Sunday newspaper and our associated digital platforms.

The ideal candidate will be hard working, imaginative and able to produce excellent copy under pressure.

We want someone who can help set the news agenda for the county by breaking exclusive stories that will be read by people across Kent.

You will be someone who can produce well-written features and human interest stories that get to the heart of a subject.

Candidates must have a relevant qualification and at least two years' experience of working as a news journalist.

To apply, write to: The Editor, Kent on Sunday, Apple Barn, Hythe Road, Smeth, Ashford, Kent, TN25 6SR, or email ian.patel@kosmedia.co.uk

TERMS AND CONDITIONS*KOS MEDIA (PUBLISHING) LTD TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Advertisements will be accepted only on the express condition that the advertiser warrants that the advertisement does not in any way contravene any existing legislation and in particular the Trade and Description Act 1968 and the Consumer Credit Act 1974.
2. It is the responsibility of all advertisers to ensure that all advertising material of all forms of government legislation and KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd ("the media owner") takes no responsibility for liability in errors and omissions to the content of our media.
3. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
4. All rates within the annual advertising agreement will be rate protected for 12 months from the first date of publication under the signed agreement.
5. Any unsuitable material posted on any website belonging to KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd by the advertiser or any associated third party will be removed or refused. All passwords and security supplied to the advertiser by KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd in relation to the use of the posting of material via the media owner's online administration tool will be the responsibility of the advertiser. The advertiser indemnifies KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd against any damages as a result of misuse of these privileges by either the advertiser or any third party given password privileges by the advertiser.
6. KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd reserves the right to change passwords intermittently to ensure the overall and ongoing security of its websites within the public domain.
7. Copyright and licenses for voice-over/music/photography or film for advertising promotions or otherwise within the various forms of media in print, online and moving film owned by KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd must have been sought, verified or paid for by the advertiser where applicable. Approval or permissions must have been given by any potential beneficial owner of voice-over or music. The advertiser must be able to verify any statements or claims (promotional or otherwise) in relation to their products/services promoted within any of the media offerings belonging to KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd.
8. Where shrinkage of an advertisement occurs for whatever reason, the advertiser will be charged to the nearest full centimetre where it relates to the media owner's printed publications. This will NOT apply to full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
9. KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd reserves the right to omit or refuse any advertisement/commercial/web content without notice or explanation. In these terms the word "advertiser" shall be construed to include any person or organisation placing an advertisement on behalf of another.
10. A guarantee of insertion cannot be given and the media owners shall not be liable for any loss or damage caused by any error inaccuracy within your marketing content. In no case shall the total liability of the media owner for any error or omission exceed the price charged by the media owners for that advertising.
11. No liability is accepted for any loss or damage alleged to have arisen through delay in forwarding replies to Box numbers, however caused, nor for the loss or damage to any artwork supplied.
12. Claims for any error or inaccuracy in your media messages with KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd must be made in writing to the accounts department within 10 days of publication.
13. KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd accepts no responsibility for any errors or omissions made on their websites by the advertiser.
14. KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd has the right to cancel the advertiser's annual membership without notice should the advertiser deliberately publish out of date material or content on any of the media owner's online digital platforms. KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd will seek to recover, in full, all outstanding invoices in relation to the signed annual membership as a result of the advertiser's negligence in this regard and reserves the right to claim damages for any potential vexatious action via the advertiser.
15. Advertisers are requested to check their advertisements after the first insertion. The media owner will not be responsible for any errors on subsequent insertions, which have not been advised to them in writing.
16. A minimum of one month's notice must be given in writing for any cancellation of the signed annual advertiser's agreement. Upon cancellation, all discounts from KOS Media's standard effective media advertising rate card (July 2007-June 2008) will be recalculated and adjusted accordingly in line with KOS Media's standard media rate card (effective July 2007-June 2008) and will reflect the revised length of commitment denoted by the advertiser's written cancellation. Any surcharges, refunds or costs in relation to the cancellation of the advertiser's TV commercial for the commitment set out within the advertiser's agreement will be met in full by the advertiser as per KOS Media's standard media advertising rate card (July 2007-June 2008). Discounts will be applied and any refunds or surcharges made by either party within 30 days of the advertiser's written cancellation. Any other advertising placed must give a minimum of seven days' written notice and any discounts given for series bookings will be forfeited by the advertiser upon cancellation.
17. The advertiser must agree to the date and time of filming of the TV advertising commercial supplied by KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd within the advertiser's agreement. (Platinum, Gold, Silver standard of commercial). Should for any reason, the advertiser not be available at the agreed time without giving sufficient notice (at least 48 hours), KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd reserves the right to charge for any further TV production at the standard production hourly rate should the advertiser still wish to use KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd's production services to complete its TV commercial or photographic imagery included in the advertiser's agreement. The advertiser will approve and agree that this action would not reduce the value or cost of their membership. Any cost of changes required to the TV commercial throughout the advertiser's agreement will be borne by the advertiser outside of this agreement.
18. Each advertiser accepts that their ranking and position within KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd's search engine will be equal to those within their category (Platinum, Gold, Silver, Bronze, etc) other than they will be ranked based on the search engine criteria of optimisation within their level (Platinum, Gold, Silver or Bronze).
19. Any delivery claims made by the advertiser or discount vouchers published within the print or online media of KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd and any action as a result of the public or otherwise is the responsibility of the advertiser. Any claims resulting from this via KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd must be met by the advertiser.
20. a. All credit accounts due for payment shall be notified to the Advertiser by the 30th day following the date of the invoice, time to be of the essence. All sums due to KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd or RBS Factoring shall be paid in full, and the Advertiser shall have no right of set off in any circumstances.
b. In the event that payment is not received by KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd or RBS Factoring by the due date, the media owner shall be entitled to suspend all further advertising until payment is received and/or repudiate the contract.
c. In the event that payment is not received by KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd by the due date, the media owner reserves the right to charge interest on all overdue balances calculated on a daily basis at the rate of two per cent above the minimum lending rate of National Westminster Bank Plc from time to time in force.
d. Notwithstanding anything in these terms and conditions or implied to the contrary, in the event of the Advertiser ceasing to use the services of KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd for whatever reason, the whole amount of monies due from the Advertiser to the date of cessation shall fall due for immediate payment.
e. The Advertiser will be liable for all costs incurred by KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd in the recovery of debts not paid by the due date.
f. Payment may be made by cheque, credit transfer, direct debit, cash and any major credit card.
21. Any discount which KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd may have agreed with the Advertiser shall be forfeited in the event of failure by the Advertiser to complete the contract or to meet the above credit terms.
22. Advertising Agency commission will be allowed to those advertisers recognised by the Newspaper Society, but shall not exceed ten per cent and will be subject to the terms of that recognition. This commission will not be allowed if the Advertising Agency fails to meet the terms.
23. All private advertisement and certain categories as laid down by KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd must be prepaid.
24. The Advertiser agrees to indemnify KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd in respect of all costs, damages or other charges falling upon the media owners as a result of companies within the KOS Media Group as the result of legal action or threatened legal action or threatened legal arising from the publication of any advertisement or advertising promotion.
25. An order for an advertisement shall amount to acceptance of these terms and conditions, and any condition placed on an order by an Advertiser shall be null and void in so far as it conflicts with them.
26. Copyright in advertisements produced wholly or partially by the media owners belongs to KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the media owner's consent.

All terms and conditions stated above are in place to protect the advertiser, the media owner and the communities they serve within the public domain as well as the beneficial rights of individuals and organisations. KOS Media will endeavour to always act reasonably in applying its terms and conditions.

WEB PROJECT LEADER

Ref: 00987/K3

The Office of Development & Communications is looking for an experienced project leader who has high-level IT skills and a background in web development to join the Marketing Office. You should have excellent team leader and communication skills, as you will be required to organise the development work of the web team and train members of the university in the use of CMS. You will be required to proactively participate in cross-university and external network groups. You will therefore be operating at senior levels and be representing the university in external meetings.

You need to show a methodical approach to development and be able to approach all issues with objectivity, showing understanding of key issues and client requirements and suggesting innovative solutions to problems that may arise.

The core of the role is to assess the current website and CMS in light of both corporate and Marketing Office objectives. You must also establish a developmental plan that includes the integration of the website and CMS with internal portals and a prospective student portal, and draw up a schedule of communications and responsibilities.

Salary scale: £33,780 - £41,545 per annum inclusive

We aim to be an equal opportunities employer and welcome applications from all sections of the community.

To obtain further particulars and an application form visit our website www.gre.ac.uk, e-mail jobs@gre.ac.uk or write to the Personnel Office, University of Greenwich, Avery Hill Road, London, SE9 2UG quoting the job reference. Applications should be returned by 5pm on 20 June 2008.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Long-established firm in multi-million deals

A COMMERCIAL law partner at one of the South East's leading law firms Furley Page has helped a UK offshoot of a global plastics manufacturing and supply group in two reorganisations involving asset and share purchases worth tens of millions of pounds.

Susan Jennings, 35 is head of the corporate team at Furley's Thames Gateway office at Chatham. She worked with an Aliaxis Holdings UK team on the reorganisations redistributing millions of pounds within the group and a buyback of shares in one of the UK subsidiaries for more than £60 million.

Established 280 years ago, Furley has offices in Canterbury and Whitstable, as well as in Chatham.

Fuel rise unnecessary

A MASSIVE £505 million in tax on fuel has been raked in by the Government in just a few weeks. The British Chambers of Commerce say this is the same as what will be raised by the proposed 2p fuel duty rise in October during this tax year – so the rise is unjustifiable.

Its model estimates the increase in the North Sea oil tax revenues will be £390m of the £505m windfall, and £115m is extra VAT on fuel at the pump.

Thames Gateway Chamber of Commerce chief executive Tracey Manley said: "We have taken soundings from our members and, with the recession biting, it is incomprehensible they should be asked pay more for fuel. Many are struggling to remain competitive."

Avoid negative effect

STRESS and depression can surface in any company – and they can have negative knock-on effects on efficiency.

Maidstone solicitors Brachers say that the Advisory, Conciliation and Arbitration Service has published guidance which indicates that three in every ten employees will have a mental health problem in any one year.

Maria Passemard of its employment team said signs to look out for are: behavioural changes, inability to cope with workloads or pressure, loss of interest, absenteeism and personal conflicts.

'Sickies' gap widens – public sector staff take more days off

A RECORD gap opened up last year between days off sick taken by public sector and private sector workers – with public sector workers taking an average of nine days and private workers less than six.

The gulf between the two absence rates – the public was 55 per cent higher than the 5.8-day private average – was revealed in a survey which showed that the private sector improved its rate, while the public sector remained static compared with 2006.

The findings, in the latest CBI/AXA Absence Survey, also showed that of the 172 million days lost to absence in 2007, more than one in ten – 12 per cent – are thought to be non-genuine.

These 21 million 'sickies' cost the economy £1.6 billion and two-thirds of employers think that some staff are using them to extend weekends.

Sixty per cent said that fake sickness was used to extend holiday, and a third of employers suspect that 'sickies' are used for special events like birthdays and major football games.

As a whole, absence from work cost the UK economy £13.2 billion last year – while in the South

BETTER? Maybe, but public-sector workers take an average of nine days a year sick, three more than their private-sector counterparts

East the average employee in the South East took 7.4 days sick.

CBI South East regional director Malcolm Hyde said: "Everyone agrees that sick people need time off work."

"But employers face two serious and expensive challenges – dealing with bogus sick days, and helping those with long-term illness return to work when they are fit to do so."

"People who award themselves 'sickies' are acting unfairly, leaving their colleagues to pick up their work."

"Those with long-term illnesses need time to recover – nobody expects anyone to be at the office checking their emails the day after a heart bypass."

"But in many cases, like those involving stress or back pain, firms that keep in touch with employees and offer flexible working have been successful at reducing long-term absence levels."

Although only five per cent of absence spells became long-term, they accounted for a massive 40 per cent of all time lost, costing £5.3 billion.

Long-term absence accounted for half of all time lost in the public sector, but under a third (31 per cent) in the private sector.

Ogburn holds his nerve to earn win

BROADSTAIRS 2nd XI were indebted to the bowling of Andrew Marshall and the batting of Paul Ogburn as they beat Hayes 2nd XI by four wickets.

Marshall claimed 4-22 from 15 overs to help bowl Hayes out for 113 on Saturday. Broadstairs chased down their total for the loss of six wickets with Ogburn defiant to the end, after scoring a patient 44 not out. Joel Couldrey took 3-34 to make it tight in the end, but Ogburn managed to see his side home.

Broadstairs find the going tough at Whitstable

WHILE Broadstairs fielders showed they were on the ball by effecting four run-outs on Saturday, their batsmen were not quite singing from the same hymn-sheet.

The away side did well to restrict Whitstable to 218 all out after Max Campbell (83) and Sam Denly (44) put on a stand of 103 in threatening a big score. After then being reduced to 178-4, Whitstable lost their last six wickets for just 46 runs. Ashley Ellison was the pick of the Broadstairs attack with 3-49.

In reply, the home side got off to a shaky start after losing Craig Wretham without a run on the board and they were soon 19-2 when Terry Bond was out. David Cooper scored a measured 36 to steady the ship a little, but Broadstairs continued to lose wickets at regular intervals. Mike Capeling hung around to end up unbeaten on 31 from 61 balls, but the Whitstable bowlers were on their game and bowled Broadstairs out for 151 in the 42nd over to win by the healthy margin of 67 runs.

Broadstairs remain sixth in Division One of the Kent League and will be hoping to improve on that when they take on Bickley Park on Saturday.

KENT FEEDER LEAGUE 1E

Nelson CC - 1st XI v
Kennington CC - 1st XI

KENNINGTON'S score of 201-6 from 46 overs proved too much for Nelson as they lost by 76 runs on Saturday.

The majority of the Kennington batsmen made runs, while for Nelson, James Bridgland was again the pick of the bowlers with 3-45 from his allotted 12 overs and Zeeshan Sheikh claimed 2-46 from nine overs.

Kartik Bhudia hit a patient 40 for Nelson to keep them in the hunt, but wickets at important times proved costly.

Scott Tift pitched in with 25 at the bottom of the innings, but Nelson's batsmen found it hard to come to terms with Tom Austen who recorded excellent figures of 4-44 from 11 overs.

KENT FEEDER LEAGUE 1E

Preston & Elmstone CC - 1st XI v
Old Hartsdonians CC - 1st XI

A CENTURY from opener Dave Wheeler set up a comfortable 70-run win for Old Hartsdonians.

Wheeler hit a composed 114, which included 13 fours and three sixes, to help his side score a sizeable 238 from their 46 overs. Along the way he had help from Robert Strike (24) and Guy Cunningham (15) while Harry Mansell was the pick of the opposition with figures of 4-49.

Wheeler was in the thick of it with the ball as well after he claimed figures of 4-16 off 12 tight and accurate overs. Jarrett Smith also claimed figures of 3-25 as the home side were dismissed for 168.

KENT FEEDER LEAGUE 1E

St Margaret's CC - 1st XI v
East Langdon CC - 1st XI

A DEVASTATING spell of seam bowling from Christopher Broom blew St Margaret's away as they were bowled out for 93 in less than 30 overs.

The East Langdon skipper claimed 5-24 from his 12 overs as none of the St Margaret's bowlers could come to terms with his accurate bowling.

Captain Ritchie Hulks top scored with just 13 and his side's score was never going to be an easy one to defend. St Margaret's did however, make a good fist of it and managed to claim five wickets before they were eventually beaten by five wickets.

KENT FEEDER LEAGUE 2B

Westgate-on-Sea 2nd XI v
New Ash Green CC- 2nd XI

WESTGATE'S bowlers reigned supreme on Saturday as they skittled New Ash Green out for a disappointing 98.

There were wickets for all six of the Westgate bowlers with Stephen Winch (3-18) the pick along with Gary Sandwell (2-15). The home side cantered to victory with the loss of just two wickets thanks to Marcus Taylor's unbeaten 34, Martin Arnold's 23 and not out by Alex Spokes.

The win moved Westgate up to fifth in Kent Feeder League 2B and they will be looking for more of the same on Saturday when they travel to Swale to play Bobbing Court and Lower Halstow's 4th XI.

Quain first to sign for new Gate duo

MARGATE boss Barry Ashby has made Aaron Quain his first signing as Blues manager.

Quain made 13 appearances for the first team last season after making the step up from Margate's reserves, but Ashby has moved to sign the youngster for the club's first team ahead of the new season.

The 19-year-old was also the winner of last season's Young Player of the Year award at Hartsdown Park.

While nearby neighbours Ramsgate made their seventh signing of the summer last week, the new Margate duo of Ashby and Paul Smith have been taking their time and insist they won't be rushed.

Departure

The Blues manager has had a lot to come to terms with in his first few weeks at the club with the departure of leading scorer James Pinnock and midfielder Jay Saunders to Maidstone United.

Steve McKimm, Jimmy Jackson, Ricardo Josephs and Jake Eastwood have now all left Hartsdown Park, which has left the Blues a little low in numbers.

Ashby insists he and his backroom staff of Smith, Neville Southall and Terry Yorath, have been working hard to bring new recruits to the club but there is plenty of time to get the right players in before the beginning of the season in August.

He told the club's website: "It is tough at this time of year. We're competing with other clubs for players."

"We've lost a few, we're in the hat for a few and have had some positive feedback on what we're trying to do at Margate from others."

"I'm not going to be rushed. We're two to three weeks behind some other clubs but there are still plenty of players out there. And there is still plenty of time."

The club held a trial for players in Canterbury in which Ashby was able to run the rule over some of the club's reserve team players, under-18s and trialists.

Rams end three-year chase to sign keeper

FOOTBALL

DANNY Ward has spoken of his delight at finally persuading Herne Bay keeper Jack Delo to join Ramsgate.

The Southwood club finally landed the former Charlton youth keeper after three seasons of trying.

The Rams' assistant manager said: "He's a tall, domineering keeper, a great shot-stopper who we've been after for three years. There will be a very interesting competition between him and Shaun Alliston."

Ward also has high hopes of Mo Takaloo, the striker who seems to bounce back and forth between Maidstone and Ramsgate.

Takaloo scored the goal that kept Maidstone in the Ryman Premier Division on the last day of the 2007/2008 season, at Folkestone, but despite his prolific record with the Stones, joint-managers Alan Walker and Lloyd Hume often used him as a substitute.

The lure of a two-year contract brought the former Margate player, who lives in Thanet, back to Southwood and Ward feels he could be the answer to Ramsgate's striking problems.

SIGNED AT LAST: Goalkeeper Jack Delo

He said: "He scored lots of goals in a relegation-fighting team. He links play well and hopefully he's the 20-goal man we need."

Ramsgate resume pre-season training at the end of the month, with a number of new faces, Joe Dowley, Steven Lloyd, Lee Maskell, Jake Eastwood, Ben Brown, Brett Kinch and Scott Holden all joining Takaloo and Delo.

Anyone who thinks they can play football at Ryman Premier Division level is welcome to take their chances at the first session, which starts at noon on Saturday, June 28 at Southwood.

Youngsters' chance to clinch Kent Games spot

SCHOOL GAMES

HUNDREDS of youngsters are getting together to take part in the Thanet School Sport Partnership Festival as part of this year's Kent School Games.

Pupils from across the island meet on Saturday, July 5 at the Ursuline Sports Specialist College, where they will compete in a variety of sports to represent Thanet in the games.

The partnership have been working to include young people that do not usually engage in sport, offering them a number of alternatives such as speedstacking, archery, handball and cheerleading.

The festival will see youngsters in groups of 20 playing a variety of sports including those non-mainstream games.

Each school in Thanet has been asked to bring ten pupils to the event which is being held from 9am to 12.30pm.

The Kent School Games is a project designed to encourage more youngsters into sport.

While pupils across Thanet have been playing football, hockey and athletics, the school sport partnership have been targeting

FESTIVAL: Pupils have the chance to take part in a variety of sporting events youngsters who do not participate and have not represented their school in the past.

As a result, games such as speedstacking – an event in which pupils have to stack cups as quickly as possible – and cheerleading have proved particularly popular.

These games have been running for two years and primary secondary schools in Thanet have enjoyed taking part after having been introduced to them by the Thanet School Sport Partnership.
